

In the Specification

[0053] User agent 512 can manage delivery of an application service to the customer IP device 510. For example, when IP device 510 is an audio-video device, the user agent 512 can manage receipt of audio-video data and instructions. Examples of other user agents 512 include an instant messaging user agent, a unified messaging user agent, an always-on user agent, and so on.